DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 6 and 25 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention. "PEB", which recitation is not supported by the originally filed application either literally or by any general concept that provides meaning to this limitation.

Claim s 6 and 25 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claims 6 and 25 recites "PEB", which recitation is indefinite as its meaning is unknown.

It is noted that the originally filed claim 6 recited "PIP", not "PEB" thus claim 6 is being further non-compliant with the rules governing amendments as the newly recited "PEB" is not underlined and deleted "PIB" is not crossed out. However, to expedite the prosecution, the claim is treated on the merits. The applicants should correct the claims for compliance in a subsequent office action.

For the purposes of the art rejection, this limitation is treated as "PIP".

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-5, 7, 9-12, 14-19, 20-26, and 28-30 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by EP 0949 282 to Kaneka Corporation, (hereinafter "Kaneka '282").

The rejection stands are per reasons of record set for the in the previous office action and incorporated herein by reference. As discussed in the previous office action, the reference expressly discloses norbornene as a suitable cationically polymerizable monomer for the second block. Cationic polymerization of norbornene results in cycloolefin polymer corresponding to the first formula recited in claim 1. As also discussed in the previous office action, the reference further expressly discloses suitability of dicyclopentadiene for forming the other (non-isobutylene) polymer block. Cationic polymerization of dicyclopentadiene results in polymer corresponding to the last formula recited in claims 1 and 20.

Art Unit: 1796

The invention as claimed, thus is fully within the purview of the cited reference, and clearly discloses each and every claimed element thus anticipating the claimed invention..

Claims 1, 7, 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by US Patent 5,804,664 to Kennedy et al., (hereinafter "Kennedy '664").

The rejection stands as per reasons of record set for the in the previous office action and incorporated herein by reference.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 6,8,13 and 27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Kaneka '282.

The rejection stands as per reasons of record set for the in the previous office action and incorporated herein by reference.

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12-16-2009 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. With respect to the Kennedy reference the applicants argue that the reference “does not disclose, teach or suggest a multi-arm star block copolymer comprising: an aromatic core having one or more arms extending therefrom; wherein each of the one or more arms are formed from a polyisobutylene segment and a cycloolefin or polycycloolefin segment, wherein the polyisobutylene segment and the cycloolefin or polycycloolefin segment form a repeating unit multiblock copolymer, wherein the cycloolefin or polycycloolefin segment is selected from one or more of the following formulas” then reciting four formulas for the cycloolefins. This argument is not persuasive since, as discussed above and in the previous office action, the reference expressly discloses an aromatic core (resulting from using bi or tri-functional aromatic initiators), and at least two arms extending from this block each of the arms comprising PIP block, and a cycloolefin block resulting from cationic polymerization of either norbornene or dicyclopentadiene.

The applicants further argue that the reference does not disclose a process that comprises a step of providing a bi-functional aromatic core. This argument does not have any basis. The examiner expressly discussed that the initiators disclosed in the reference are bi-functional aromatic initiators (completely corresponding, for example, to the bi-functional initiator (which provides the aromatic core) illustrated on page 12 of the instant application.

With respect to the rejection over Kennedy, the applicants present similar arguments. While the argument that the reference does not disclose a step of providing a bi-functional initiator are found persuasive, the arguments that the reference does not teach the claimed multi-arm block copolymer as claimed are Not found persuasive, since the reference expressly discloses multi-arm copolymer having aromatic core, PIP arms and further expressly discloses norbornene as a suitable monomer for cationic polymerization of subsequent block.

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
